

New gasket for top class lift & slide thermal break system AL250

ALUMINCO confirms once again that it is among the top advanced companies in the field of design and production of branded aluminum systems for architectural use, presenting this time a new gasket for the insulated sliding system AL 250.

The new gasket is designed to meet the high demands of the system, offering excellent air tightness and application.

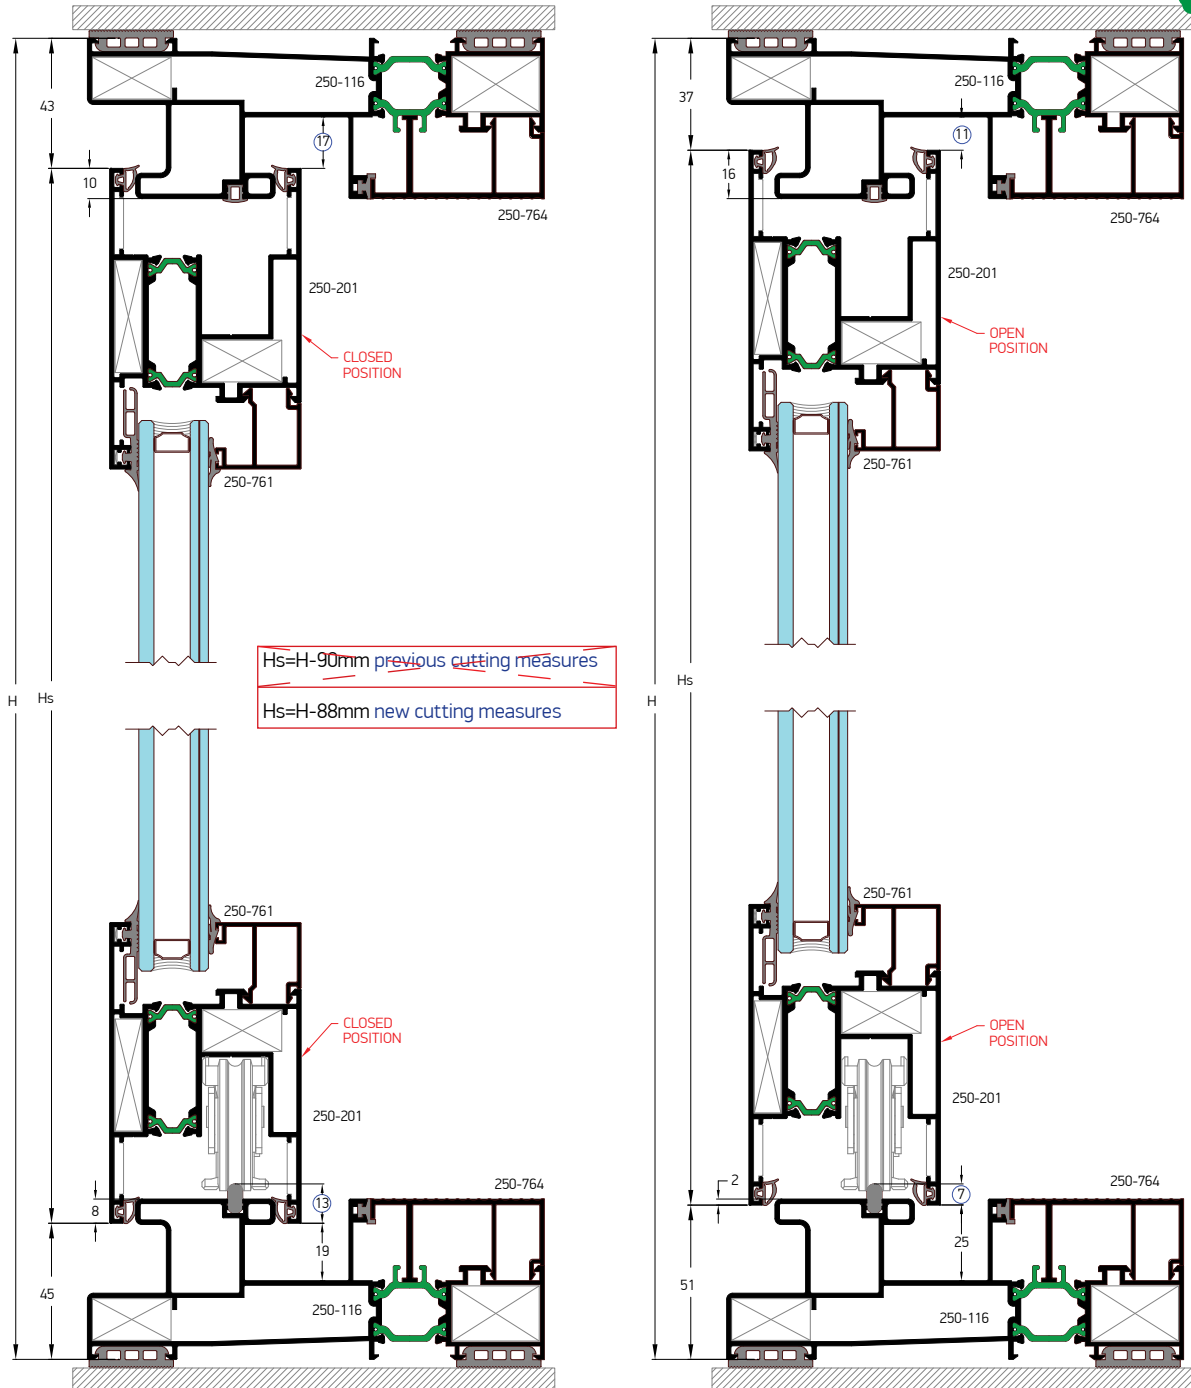

Gasket Properties

- EPDM material with impressive characteristics
- Excellent sealing and application
- Easy installation

Code: ES250-405

New cutting measures (per height) for AL 250

New cutting measures (per height) for AL 250

